Members

The Garden club held its first fall meeting Monday evening at the Alexander hall. The guest speaker of the evening, Mrs. Edith Williams of Williamsburg, was introduced by Walter Bailey of the program committee. Mr. and Mrs. Williams operate the Village Hill Nursery in Williamsburg. She spoke on the topic, "It's Fun to Grow Herbs," and had on display many potted herbs.

Mrs. Williams has studied herbs for many years and told of their use since the days of the Romans and the early monasteries in Europe. She advised small kitchen herb gardens where five or six herbs could be grown for use in cooking.

"Most herbs should be used in food only to blend the flavor so that the food rather than the herb is tasted," said Mrs. Williams. "Although herbs are used for medicinal purposes, she continued, they should not be used in the home in this way without physician's ad-

Some of the herbs Mrs. Williams grows and sells and recommends for use are winter savory, sage, thyme, rosemary, oregano, marjoram, spearment, lemon balm, terragon, chives, burnett, parsley, anise, basil, caraway, chervil, dill, sweet fennel, boneset, tansy and pennyroyal, plus many more unusual ones.

Grown for seeds are corriander, mustard and poppy and there is another group grown mainly for elton, chairman, Alexander Kozscent or aroma. She recommended a government bulletin, "Savory Herbs" which may be purchased for five cents.

She dries herbs in an electric Chalmers Reed. oven at 200° temperature for 20 minutes or until dry. All were interested in her talk.

At the meeting of the Civic Council on Wednesday evening devotions. there was again a discussion of the problem of traffic through the town and of ways of securing a safer means of handling traffic at the center of the town.

Edward Hurley, council president, reported that nothing further had been done and that the selectmen had nothing to report from the department of public works regarding the situation.

The advisability and effectiveness of a citizen-signed petition were discussed, also action that might be taken at a future town meeting, but no definite decision was made by the council.

It was voted thaat through the council, friends of Irving J. Lawrence, now a patient at the Franklin county public hospital, be given an opportunity to assist with a community gift for his benefit.

The following plan has been announced for this gift:

Instead of spending money for books, flowers, etc., friends will pool their resources for a money gift. He has worked tirelessly for the Trinitarian Congregational church and its choir, for the Garden club, local and Pioneer valley regional school board, Civic Council, various activities and churches to which he did not belong and in a wide variety of ways has served The Junior Branch Follies of '58 | the community for many years.

Fire Prevention Week

Fire losses in the United States last year exceeded the $1-billion mark for the first time in our history.

An ever-growing population, hundreds of thousands of new homes annually, new office buildings, shops, warehouses, factories—all require protection from already over-burdened fire departments. Increasing in proportion are the potential sources of fire and loss of life.

Fire Prevention Week, this year, October 5-11, would, therefore, seem to warrant new and special attention from all of us. It deserves our unstinting support—both as a community service and as an active personal defense. Designed to spotlight the urgent need to protect life and property against one of man's oldest enemies, Fire Prevention Week focuses attention on the causes and effects of fire; reminds us that fires can be prevented.

An important weapon of this effort is the national Junior Fire Marshal program, sponsored locally by The Northfield Insurance Agents in cooperation with the elementary schools and the fire department.

Launched in 1947 by the Hartford Fire Insurance Company, the Junior Fire Marshal program is a comprehensive year-round public service conducted within the school curriculum. The Junior Fire Marshals include more than four million elementary school-age children throughout the United States, Canada, Hawaii and the Philippines.

Taught fundamentals of fire safety, Junior Fire Marshals annually enlist the help of parents in a nationwide drive to inspect their own homes to eliminate common fire causes. Subsequent projects during the school year place special emphasis on seasonal fire hazards associated with Christmas. winter fire safety and Spring Clean-up activity.

To be truly effective, as every Junior Fire Marshal knows, Fire Prevention Week lessons should be practiced on a continuing year-round basis. Let's take a tip from our Junior Fire Marshals and practice fire prevention this week and every week all year-long.

Mrs. George Exhibits Handwork at Colrain

Mrs. Constance George was the guest speaker at the meeting of the Woman's club of the Colrain Congregational church Monday evening. She demonstrated hand spinning and special weaving and showed her pape mache, hay and ceramic dolls. She will speak and demonstrate her new weaving technique Oct. 16 at the Junior Women's group of the Second Congregational church in Greenfield and will show many samples of her work.

She will attend and exhibit her work at the 35th International Women's Exposition at New York City Nov. 3-9. She is a member of the International Federation of Hand Art and will enter the divisions of ceramics, crochet, embroidery, lace making, weaving and miscellaneous.

Last year she received seven awards .The main object of her various endeavors is to help others to happiness through leisure time handwork.

PETERBOROUGH SCHEDULES FALL ANTIQUE FAIR

The Peterborough Antiques Fair and Sharon Arts Center exhibit are being held Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week from 1 tc 9 p.m. daily. The antiques show is in the town house at Peterborough, N. H., and an exhibit of early American quilts will be at the Arts Center at Sharon.

There is a small charge for the antique show and the quilt exhibit is free. This would be a beautiful ride this weekend when the fall foliage is at its best.
